

2024 Children's Healthcare Canada Award for Leadership in Family and Person- Centered Care

Call for Nominations

Award Description

The Children's Healthcare Canada Award for Family and Person-Centred Care recognizes teams or programs that have implemented innovative practices to enhance the human experience in healthcare. This prestigious award showcases initiatives that embody the principles of family-centred care, including:

- Dignity and Respect: Healthcare providers listen to and respect the perspectives and choices of individuals and families, integrating their knowledge, values, beliefs, and cultural backgrounds into care planning and delivery.
- Information Sharing: Open and unbiased communication with individuals and families, providing timely and accurate information to support their involvement in care and decision-making.
- Participation: Empowering individuals and families to participate in care and decision-making at their desired level.
- Collaboration: Collaborating with individuals, families, healthcare professionals, and leaders in policy development, program implementation, facility design, education, research, and care delivery to enhance the healthcare experience for patients, residents, clients, families, and communities.

Programs and services eligible for this award must demonstrate measurable success in improving patient experience, enhancing staff training and development, and fostering satisfaction and engagement among staff and clinicians.
